ABOUT THE ARTISTS

The African Children's Choir has been traveling for the past 30 years in an effort to raise global awareness for the plight of the orphaned and abandoned children of Africa. The tour also supports the expansion of sponsorship and education programs for both choir children and the thousands of others they represent back in the seven African countries where Music for Life operates.

Since its inception in 1984, Music For Life has provided vital support for the education of 52,000 destitute children across Africa. They have also reached over 100,000 people through their relief and development programs. Each year, a new Choir is formed and the children from the previous year's choir return to their homelands to attend school, where both their care and education is completely funded by the African Children's Choir through university or vocational school.
